Guy Larkin

Deputy Manager

With over 25 years of experience in education, pastoral care, and leadership, Guy is a dedicated and highly skilled Deputy Manager, specialising in supporting vulnerable and neurodiverse young people.

Beginning his career as a Physical Education teacher, he quickly progressed through a series of leadership roles, including Head of Year, Head of Intervention Strategies, and Associate Senior Leader at Altrincham College of Arts.

Throughout his career, he has led initiatives in behaviour management, student leadership, inclusion, and mental health support. His specialist qualifications include NPQ in Leading Behaviour and Culture, Team Teach training, and accreditation as a Specialist Leader in Education (Behaviour).

He has worked extensively with SEMH and autistic pupils, including recent roles at Egerton High School and Grange School, where he delivered tailored curriculums and wellbeing programmes.

A passionate advocate for holistic child development, he brings extensive experience working with multi-agency teams, designing and implementing referral and intervention systems, and mentoring both students and staff.
